Card purchase fee: $1.00 Monthly fee: $5 if you load $1,000 previous month Reload fee: Up to $5.95 ATM Fee: $2.50 Courtesy of FamZoo Now our favorite subscription: Teaching kids to manage money can be difficult in the age of debit and credit cards. FamZoo prepaid cards allow you to create parent and child roles with cards that restrict access and functionality. You can send money between cards and create automatic recurring transfers from one card to another. It has the ability to tie chores and jobs to rewards or penalties, and parents can lock or unlock cards or control card access for fraud protection. With a paid FamZoo subscription, you can order and use up to four FamZoo prepaid cards as long as your subscription is active. Additional cards can be ordered for a one-time fee.2 There is no re-charge fee for direct deposits. FamZoo does not re-charge cash re-charging fees, but some providers may charge a fee. Transfers between cards are free and will be sent immediately. Do not pay fees for purchases or network ATM withdrawals. What we don't like: You must have a paid FamZoo subscription, which costs $5.99 per month (although less if you pay for a subscription in advance). Card Purchase Fee: The first 4 cards are free. $2 for each card that exceeds the April rate: $5.99 Reload fee: Up to $6 Reload method, depending on THE ATM fee: Free on the network. If you out-of-network A prepaid debit card is a card that already has funds, your credit limit is the amount left on the card. As with credit cards, you don't need to be approved for a specific limit. Instead, loading the amount on the card is a limitation. Prepaid debit cards are available at most retail retailers that accept online and regular debit cards. However, you usually can't rent a car with a prepaid debit card. When you purchase an items using a card, the purchase is immediately debited from the balance. Prepaid debit cards vary depending on the cost. Some are free, some charge an upfront fee, others charge a monthly fee. In general, you can expect to pay $1 to $9.95 in upfront card purchase fees. Monthly rates typically go up to $9.95. Keep in mind, there may be an additional charge every time you put more money into it and reload the card. If you use a card at an OUT-of-network ATM, there are also fees associated with that card. Instead of accepting a prepaid debit card, it's usually cheaper to get a debit card through your bank. Prepaid debit cards are best for teens or employees who want to guarantee a stay within their card limits. If one of these situations applies to you, it may be worth the fee. It's also worth a prepaid debit card if your credit is not the best or you can't open a bank account for any reason. Before you receive a prepaid debit card, you know all the costs involved. I'm not surprised by monthly fees, re-order fees or other costs along those lines. There are tons of prepaid debit cards, and we just wanted to recommend the best ones. We chose the best prepaid debit card based on factors such as fees, features, perks and easy-to-use methods. Use.
